Breaks Up the Greatest Defensive Aggregation in History.

That the loss of Tris Speaker, erstwhile outfielder of the Boston Red Sox and now a member of the Cleveland Indians, will have a decided effect upon the confidence of the world's champions was the verdict Ty Cobb expressed to the newspapermen when he breezed into Chicago with the Detroit Tigers.

"Every one knows the Red Sox outfield was the greatest defensive aggregation in history," said Cobb. Speaker was more than one of this trio. His presence and his ability in covering ground helped the pitchers make good. I can truthfully say that he robbed PLANK NOT THROUGH. FOR SOUTHERN TRIP. Veteran Says He Has Five More each other they sho Years in Majors.

Eddie Plank, old-time nemesis of the Tigers, refuses to be counted out. He scoffs at the idea that he won't mount to much this season, and con-bunds his critics by the assertion that founds his critics by the assertion that he expects to keep on pitching in the majors until he is 45 years old. According to all that dope, the hero of Gettysburg will stick around another five years. In a garrulous mement the other day, he consented to talk about himself. Here is what he had to say:—

Chicago club, that their clothes and been daubed with green paint from newly renovated seats in the stand. The patrons explained that they did not mind having their clothes spelled so much as the fact that during the latter part of the game the band insisted on playing "The Wearing of the Green."

say:"Tve never had a sore arm, and when I quit the game it will be be-cause I'm tired of it. I'm 40 now, but I'm going to stick in the big leagues for five more years. At 45, then, I think, I'll be prepared to stay at home. Pitching is a job. It must be studied by the pitcher. He must study the other fellow, the batter and then give him what he knows he cannot hit. That's the way I have witched. not hit. That's the way I have pitched for 15 years. The fellow with the fast ball will last longer than the one with the curve. I'll pitch five fast ones to a single curve or slow ball. But the winning pitcher must have the com-bination. He must mix 'em to the bat-ter. Control is the biggest point. If you can put it where you want then you'll win more games than you lose.
"I believe control just was natural with me. If you can keep the ball away from the 'groove' of the sluggers you'll win. Benny Kauff got one gers you'll win. Benny Kauff got one real hit off me last season. It was a drive over the right field fence in St. Louis. He had me three and two and my foot slipped just when I shot the ball. It went outside and he met it. You can't fool Ty Cobb. He'll hit anything. Against Ty I just try to get him off his stride and trust to the luck of my felders. Against sluggers luck of my fielders. Against sluggers like Crawford, Speaker and Jackson they are easier to fool than Ty because they swing a heavy bat and hold it on the handle. Ty uses a light one and he swings it like a toothpick.

"I never try for a strikeout record. You won't last long if you attempt to fan every fellow who comes up there. I know that I have eight other fellows on the field with me. In spring train-ing I take my time. Never a curve until after the first week and then I start my speed gradually. I believe this system has kept my arm in shape for 15 long years."

SPORTING NOTES.

Major league clubs have only 153 ore games to play. Hotel statistics give one the correct otion that rookie ball players have great appetites.

Tris Speaker and the Bridgeport seball club evidently do not realize that paper is scarce.

Hans Wagner opened the baseball season of 1916 in St. Louis by making three hits and drawing a base on balls. Overton of Yale looked pretty good as a cross-country runner until that rookie in Mexico started across the lots.
